Roatan Island, Honduras

Surrounded by a rich coral reef, Roatan Island is a genuine tropical paradise, ideal for swimming or snorkelling in the clear turquoise waters. Be sure to take in the beautiful gardens and the unusual butterfly and iguana farms too.

Colon, Panama

Panama's Colon is best known as the gateway to the Miraflores Locks, where visitors can watch one of the world's greatest engineering feats - the Panama Canal - in action. See enormous locks that lift ships up 25.9 m (85 ft) to the main elevation of the Canal.

Cartagena de Indias, Colombia

Experience Centro Amurallado, the heart of Cartagena. This walled city is guarded by a fortress built to protect it from pirates and storms. Within the walls there are beautiful colonial buildings, plazas and churches.

Santa Marta, Colombia

Santa Marta has one of the most beautiful bays you will ever see. It's full of natural charm, sea breezes and pure mountain air. The oldest city in South America holds an unrivalled architectural heritage that evokes the times of the banana bonanza.

Oranjestad, Aruba

As well as having fabulous beaches, Oranjestad is a keepsake and nickname paradise, packed full of shops ripe for browsing. Try the local 'Balashi' beer as a way to get a taste of the island.

Scarborough, Tobago, Trinidad and Tobago

Scarborough is a lively little town dominated by the 18th century Fort King George, which offers superb views out over Scarborough and the sea. Visit the colourful market; admire the beautiful Argyle Waterfall; or relax on the white sands of Pigeon Point Beach.

St George's, Grenada

St George's is often referred to as the prettiest harbour town in the West Indies. Take a water taxi to Grand Anse Beach and lie back on golden sands, bathed by cool cobalt waters. Relax and absorb Grenadian culture, spices, sights and sounds over a glass of local rum.

n, Cuba, Jamaica

Kingstown, St Vincent and Grenadines

Beautifully unspoilt, St. Vincent is a haven just waiting to be explored. Take a stroll along the waterfront in Kingstown; visit the Botanical Gardens; or enjoy the dramatic scenery of black sand beaches and thunderous surf, framed by lush mountains.

Roseau, Dominica

From Roseau, you can travel to Dominica's exotic tropical rainforest interior. Discover rich flora and fauna, deep lakes and glittering waterfalls set in a gorgeous landscape.

Basseterre, St Kitts

Basseterre, the capital of St Kitts, is one of the oldest towns in the Eastern Caribbean. The rich history reflects French and English rule, yet it retains much of its Georgian architecture.

Recommended tour: St. Kitts Shore Tour: Scenic Railway – Be a passenger on the St. Kitts Railway, considered by many as one of the most attractive train rides in the world.

Road Town, Tortola

Tortola was a famous pirate haunt of old, and is an absolute delight. With bays and coves with fine white sand and shady palms, snorkelers can explore a world of sea fans, sponges, parrotfish and corals.

Grand Turk, Turks and Caicos Islands

Grand Turk is the place to enjoy a bite to eat at the beachfront bars and restaurants. The snorkelling and scuba diving is rated as amongst the best in the world.

Philipsburg, St Maarten

Havana, Cuba

Most cruise ships are not allowed in to Cuba, but Braemar is warmly welcomed. Experience a rush of art, culture, dancing, rum and cigars – that most cruisers never see.

Montego Bay, Jamaica

Montego Bay is perhaps the most exciting place in this lush, green country. Stroll along the main street where you'll find plenty of shops, bars and cafés. Visit Doctor's Cave Beach, with glorious sands and turquoise waters.

Santarém, Brazil

The centre of Santarém is home to the Mercado Modelo – city market – filled with stores, boutiques and other shops. Don't miss the famous 'wedding of the waters' – the meeting of the different colours of the Amazon and Tapajós rivers.

Boca do Valeria, Brazil

The tiny Indian village of Boca da Valeria is one of thousands of tiny settlements in the Amazon basin: fewer than a hundred people live here, in wooden stilt houses amid jungle lakelands.

Manaus, Brazil

Manaus is the Amazon's largest city, resting along the left bank of the Rio Negro, which merges with the muddy Amazon. Riverboats journey through the myriad estuaries and small creeks, where you'll be able to catch sight of the region's rich, diverse wildlife.

Devil's Island (Ile Royale), French Guiana

Formerly the site of a French penal colony, Devil's Island was depicted in the novel and film Papillon, written by one of the island's prisoners, Henri Charrière. Discover the remains of this notorious time, or explore on foot, looking out for colourful macaws, monkeys and sea turtles.

Ponta Delgada, Azores

Ponta Delgada has a very cosmopolitan atmosphere, with a fine selection of parks, narrow cobbled streets and squares and a modern marina. San Miguel is lovely, with lakes, mountains and lush valleys, together with fine sandy beaches lapped by the deep blue ocean.
