SOUTH AUSTRALIA

Adelaide, South Australia's capital, is a city of transformation.

More than just Australia's food and wine capital, South Australia is the destination for adrenaline-pumping adventures, international festivals, world-class wine, amazing fresh local produce and unique native wildlife.

Take a journey of discovery through the many diverse regions in the state. Perhaps an epic road trip to explore Australia's Outback and the Flinders Ranges, shark cage diving on Eyre Peninsula, or a cycling tour through the beautiful Clare Valley. Follow one of the world's longest rivers through the Riverland to the Murray Mouth or visit the Barossa, one of the world's great wine regions.

Closest to Adelaide you'll find the Adelaide Hills, Barossa, Fleurieu Peninsula and Clare Valley regions. All are renowned for their outstanding food and wine. Little more than an hour's drive and you'll come across the mighty Murray River which flows through two of South Australia's most beautiful regions, the Riverland and the Murray River, Lakes and Coorong. For an experience full of natural wonders, head to the Flinders Ranges, Kangaroo Island, Yorke Peninsula or Limestone Coast.

Whether you're after indulgence, culture, adventure or a foodie's paradise, you'll find what you're looking for in South Australia.
